

GlobalTradeJobs

International Trade Execution Analyst

The International Trade Execution Analyst plan and carry the strategy of moderately complex trade execution activities. In this role, you will ensure coordination of all required processes for movement of commodities and maintain consistent communication with internal and external customers to ensure accurate and timely statuses of operations. Key Accountabilities

- Execute high volume contracts for different trade flows, supporting the strategy of the different product lines existing within the business group strategy.
- Lead the effort of measuring the risk in the trade execution activities, including ability to analyze, research and measure metrics to be presented to other stakeholders in the business.
- Build, maintain and foster relationships with customers, clients, suppliers and other business partners, such as freight forwarders, insurance companies, agents, buyers and sellers.
- Execute end to end import and export transportation processes in compliance with defined contractual terms to minimize risks of the execution.
- Independently solve moderately complex issues with minimal supervision, while escalating more complex issues to appropriate staff.

- Provide support on the implementation of any process improvements efforts within the trade execution activities, processes and procedures.
- Other duties as assigned Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications

Bachelor's degree in a related field or equivalent experience

Minimum of two years of related work experience

International trading/merchandising environment experience

Ability to travel a 5% of the time

Preferred Qualifications

Strong organizational, and communication skills

Experience analyzing complex data and metrics

Experience managing relationships with global buyers, sellers, and agents.

Cotton experience or commodities experience

#LI-KL1 Important Information

The business will not sponsor applicants for work visas for this position.

Relocation assistance will not be provided for this position

Location: Memphis, Tennessee